

WOODLAND HILLS INTERACTION SERIES

Visit with author Mr. Terrance Hayes

National Book Award-winning author

December 17, 2014 1:00pm-2:00pm

Critics have hailed National Book Award-winning poet Terrance Hayes' as "hip and funny." He has been referred to as "one of the best poets – African American or otherwise – now writing." Mr. Hayes has read his work and lectured at Carnegie Hall and the Lincoln Center for Performing Arts. He teaches at the University of Pittsburgh and is a member of the President's Committee on the Arts & Humanities National Student Poets Program.

Mr. Hayes is the author of Lighthouse, Wind in a Box, Hip Logic, and other works.

- Poet Terrance Hayes is the National Book Award-winning author of Lighthouse, Wind in a Box, Hip Logic, and other works.
- His poems have appeared in publications throughout the world.
- In 2014, Mr. Hayes received a MacArthur Fellowship.
- Mr. Hayes teaches at the University of Pittsburgh.
- His next book, How To Be Drawn, will be published next year.

<http://terrancehayes.com>