

WOODLAND HILLS INTERACTION SERIES

Think Globally: Preparing for the Future
Mr. Bryant Salter

President and CEO, Business Diplomacy Consulting
Former U.S. Diplomat and Professional Football Player
October 24, 2014 9:00 am - 10:15 am

The world is becoming increasingly interconnected. In Pittsburgh alone, more than 400 companies have global ties. Regardless of the industry, sector, or field, chances are students' future careers will have an international component. How can students begin preparing for their future careers in a globalized world? During this special seminar, students will hear from Bryant Salter, a Pittsburgh native who spent time as both a United States diplomat and a professional football player before launching his own international business consultancy. Mr. Salter will help students develop their own strategy for success by sharing his personal story: the path he took and the choices he made along the way that opened unsuspected opportunities. Following Mr. Salter's remarks, students will have the opportunity to ask questions during a moderated discussion.

- Bryant Salter currently serves as the President and CEO of Business Diplomacy Consulting (BDC)—an international business consulting firm that specializes in helping companies penetrate overseas markets.*
- A Pittsburgh native, Mr. Salter served as a Foreign Service officer for over 20 years, with postings to U.S. missions and embassies in Kenya, Cameroon, South Africa, Antigua, Mexico, and Argentina.
- He served in a variety of diplomatic roles including Vice Consul, Charge d'Affairs, and Consul General.
- He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, and received his Master's from Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government. He also studied law at the University of San Diego.
- Mr. Salter was a Collegiate All-American in Track and Field and enjoyed a six-year career in the NFL.